

Dear diary,

Today I have had the best day ever! I rode an elephant along the beach with shells scattered everywhere. Oona the elephant strolled along watching every step she took. I loved being up there because I felt like a famous person riding an elephant/Oona. I couldn't believe mum surprised me with an elephant ride.

After I rode on her, she slowed down and I had a relaxing ride on her back. I was so scared that I would of fallen off her. I was lucky I didn't. If I did fall I would never I mean never go on my best friend Oona ever again. Oona's stomps made me laugh when I heard them.

We will talk tomorrow
