Welcome to week three. As always, there will be lots of exciting things going on in school this week so make sure your child is in school every day! As a reminder, the academy will be closed this Friday (20th November) for an INSET Day. Please do not bring your child to school.

Attendance:

Last week's attendance heroes were...

Doves who had the highest attendance.

Otters who had the most improved attendance.

Congratulations to both classes!

Anti-Bullying Week

We were delighted to see so many odd socks in the academy this morning, marking the start of anti-bullying week. Each class will spend time exploring what anti-bullying week means for us and exploring ideas around diversity, kindness and friendship. As always, we will be delivering the key message 'be kind'.

Reading at OALC

We hope you are enjoying myON and have explored the wide range of texts available! In school, the children continue to experience reading across the curriculum. Here are a few of the things you can expect your child to experience in school:

- * 1:1 reading, focusing on fluency and expression.
- * Daily reading comprehension lesson focusing on skills such as retrieval and inference (Key Stage 2)
- * Daily opportunities to hear an adult read aloud from carefully created year group book collections.

Later in the term, we will be launching some exciting changes to your child's reading books and an addition to our reading provision. Look our for more information coming soon!
